

COVID-19: Personal Finance Resources

General Resources

Rapid response funds are available through GrantWatch, which provides a variety of funding sources for individuals whose income sources have been affected by the coronavirus pandemic. These grants include funding for musicians, research students, artists, hospitality workers, restaurant workers, and more.

The Betancourt-Macias Family Scholarship Foundation has created a COVID-19 Relief Fund for Undocumented Individuals in Washington State, as well as access to health resources like cloth face masks. Visit the foundation's website to learn more.

Federal Stimulus Payments

The U.S. Government has started to distribute federal stimulus payments, or Economic Impact Payments. These payments will start at $1,200 and increase depending on your tax filing status.

Should you be expecting a payment? See if you're eligible for an Economic Impact Payment on the IRS website. You can also use their Get My Payment tool to learn when you can expect to receive your Economic Impact Payment.
